Captain P. N. Stofen of the "James M. Donahue" has been suspended for sixty days, on account of the collision which occurred between that steamer and the English ship "Easterbrook" on October 27th. On the morning in question a dense fog prevailed on the Bay, and the "Donahue," while running at a moderate rate of speed, ran into the "Easterbrook" which had anchored in the stream directly in her path. The circumstances attending the collision were investigated by a court of inquiry composed of Inspectors of Steam Vessels, Freeman and Hillman, and it was they who suspended his license for the above mentioned time. It is the opinion of the passengers who were on board the "Donahue" at the time of the accident, that the findings in the case were unjust and cruel, as Captain Stofen is one of the most careful of our Bay pilots and on the occasion in question was as vigilant as ever in navigating his ferry boat. It was one of those unavoidable occurrences which is due to a "peril of the sea," and which ever will occur so long as man is powerless to control the elements.

Adv. Note notes of the "Overland" for December announce the important features of the closing issue of that excellent monthly for the current year. The leading article will be upon "The Lick Observatory," by Prof. Edward S. Holden, the new President of the University of California. This may be regarded as an authoritative statement on the Observatory, from the highest official source, and will be very attractive to general readers, as well as scientists. "Personal Recollections of the late John McCullough," written by an old Californian, and one of his most intimate friends, will form a notable feature. Prof. Howison will contribute an article entitled, "Is Modern Science Pantheistic?" Other well known writers will contribute sketches which will make the December "Overland" unusually interesting.

NAPA has had its sensational engagement. A young lady named Josephine Borrero, the daughter of a wealthy merchant of that city, eloped last Sunday, with Frank Hodson, her father's delivery clerk. They were married clandestinely by a Justice of the Peace, and left for San Francisco. As usual in such cases the old man was thrown into a towering rage, and threatens to disown his disobedient daughter.

JOHN L. SULLIVAN has signed a contract at Pittsburg, Pa., with John Cannon of New York city, under whose management he agrees to make the tour of Europe and Australia next year. He agrees to meet any man who may be brought against him, at any time, under any circumstances, with or without pay, and under any rules.

The death of Vice-President Hendricks places a Republican Senator in the line of succession to the Presidential chair. Senator Edmunds of Vermont, President pro tempore of the United States Senate, will undoubtedly serve as Vice-President for the next three years.

The United States Consul at Lyons has sent to the Secretary of State at Washington, D.C., a report upon the use of a mixture of slaked lime and sulphate of copper as a cure for mildew or rot upon grapes. This remedy is being extensively used in France, with a very favorable result.

COMMISSIONER ENOS of the Labor Bureau, is reported to have remarked that the times are harder at present than they have ever been before in this State. According to his estimate there are 9,000 idle people and 16,000 more who are barely making a living.

R. P. HAMMOND, Jr., of San Francisco, has been appointed Surveyor General of the State by the President. He is the only civil engineer that has ever held the office.

An effort will be made, when Congress convenes next month, to pass a law to prevent the adulteration of wine and brandies.

DEATH OF VICE-PRESIDENT HENDRICKS.

Thos. A. Hendricks, Vice-President of the United States, is dead and the Nation mourns. His death took place at Indianapolis, on Wednesday evening, and was quite unexpected. Although his health had not been of the best for some little time nothing serious was anticipated by his relatives and friends, and when the news of his sudden taking off was wired over the country an event so unexpected created a general expression of sorrow. Mr. Hendricks has held many positions of public trust in the State of Indiana. He has been a member of its Legislative body, its Governor, served as a member of Congress from the Central District, and was twice elected to the United States Senate, and last year chosen Vice-President. The deceased belonged to a family noted in the history of Indiana. His uncle, William Hendricks, was Secretary of the convention that formed the first Constitution of the State, was Indiana's first Representative in Congress, her second Governor and for two full terms represented her in the Senate of the United States. John Abram Hendricks, a cousin, fell at the battle of Pea Ridge while leading his regiment against the enemy, and Thos. Hendricks, another cousin, was killed in the Teche country fight while serving in the Union army.

PARTNERSHIP CERTIFICATES.

[Sacramento Bee.] Members of a co-partnership transacting business under a fictitious name, or designation, not showing the names of the persons interested as partners, must file with the Clerk of the county in which is the principal place of business, a certificate signed by the partners and acknowledged, stating the names of all the members of such partnership and their place of residence, and publish the same four successive weeks, in accordance with sections 2466-7. If this is not done such firm cannot maintain any action upon or on account of any contract made or transaction had in their partnership name. Heretofore the compliance with these sections has been neglected in many instances by co-partnerships, upon the theory that those provisions were merely directory. The Supreme Court in a very recent case, Sweeney et al. vs. Stanford, has held that a compliance with those provisions must be alleged in all complaints, and proved in order to sustain an action upon any account wherein the partnership is concerned. If such averment is not made and proved, it will be subject to motion for a nonsuit.

The Oakland "Times," in discussing the "credit evil," makes the following sensible remarks in regard to the same: "The trust or credit system that has become so universal everywhere in this country, is of course the principle cause of so much business anxiety and of so many failures. No one will dispute the assertion that it is a pernicious, even vicious system, and yet there is so much of the 'I'll go it alone' nonsense among dealers that nothing can be done, and all go on and all suffer. Is it a fact that the man who pays his grocery bill (if he does pay it) at the end of the week or month, cannot get a week or a month ahead, and pay down for what he buys? Nonsense! There is no one who cannot make this change in his affairs if he tries. The evil arises more from a foolish habit on the part of the people, than from necessity, and there is no honest man who would not be greatly benefited, even to being put upon the high road to prosperity, by the stern refusal of everybody to trust him.

COL. PETER DONAHUE, the well-known capitalist and owner of the railroad system in Sonoma county, died in San Francisco at 11 o'clock Thursday night. Col. Donahue came to California in 1849, and since then he has been identified with most of the important enterprises that have made this State what it is to-day. He was a good and useful citizen and his death ends the career of a man whose place in this world cannot be filled in a day.

MICHAEL KEEFE killed his wife in Vallejo on Monday.

VINTNERS, BEWARE!

A party claiming to represent the San Francisco "Journal of Commerce," is now circulating through Napa County, and no doubt will make his appearance in this valley in due course of time. He claims to be gathering statistics for a special vintage edition of that paper. In order that our vintners may not be deceived as were those of Fresno we clip the following from the "Republican" of that town: Real estate dealers and other business men of this place are complaining of being cleverly swindled by the San Francisco "Journal of Commerce." A few weeks since, Thos. C. Howell, a representative of that paper, visited Fresno for the alleged purpose of gathering data concerning the resources of this section, which he proposed to use in preparing a comprehensive description of this portion of California, setting forth the inducements it holds out to the home-seeker. This was to be printed in a mammoth edition for general circulation. Considerable trouble and expense were incurred in showing this party various points of interest in the county, and several hundred dollars were paid by business men for advertising space. Finally the extra edition of the paper made its appearance, and those who had expended their coin to secure it were considerably chagrined to find that, aside from an offensive and senseless introductory and some puffs for business houses, it contained nothing but a descriptive article which appeared in the San Francisco "Merchant" nearly two years ago. Besides having been several times reprinted, this article is now in many respects inaccurate and entirely out of date. Among other things calculated rather to injure than benefit Fresno is a statement placing her population at 2,000, or little more than half what it now is. All this would have been damaging to this section had it not been for the fact that this "comprehensive descriptive edition" was not embraced in the regular edition at all, and was only sent to the Fresno victims. The only consolation we feel able to offer the disgusted gentlemen who have been taken in by this cheap game, is the suggestion that if the amount had been invested with their home papers they would have been treated fairly and received an appreciable return for their money.

A DISPATCH from Madrid states that Alfonso, King of Spain, died in that city at 9 o'clock, Wednesday morning. His disease was consumption accelerated by dysentery.

Many of the farms near Embarcadero were under water during the recent storm and considerable damage was done by Sonoma Creek overflowing its banks. The roads leading to that place are in a very bad condition.

The sun came out last Thursday morning and it now looks as though the storm was over. But this month has been so deceiving that our local weather prophets are puzzled. There is no telling when it is going to rain or shine.

The second night of the Congregational Church fair and entertainment passed off very pleasantly last Friday evening. The programme was excellent and well carried out. We understand the fair was not only a social success but a financial one as well.

There was a daub of "blood" on the moon" last Monday. A couple of young men engaged in a wordy war on Duhring's corner on the afternoon of that day, but as more talk was indulged in than blows no one was knocked out.

The Sonoma Valley Railroad track suffered no damage whatever by the recent heavy storm. No washouts occurred and the road bed is in excellent condition. It is the only line that escaped damage by the tremendous rainfall of the past two weeks.

If Sonoma's merchants wish to do a brisk holiday trade they must advertise their attractions. A failure to do this in past years has been the cause of many a dollar being sent to San Francisco which would have been spent at our home stores did they but advertise their holiday wares.

The City Marshal has been actively engaged the past two weeks in forcing the Chinese to comply with the provisions of ordinance No. 24, having for its object the safety and comfort of the town. In consequence terra cotta pipes have taken the place of the common stove pipe and much of the filth and garbage which had been suffered to accumulate in the back yards of Chinese tenement houses has been carted off.

A Perpetual Weather Table.

The following table was constructed by the celebrated Dr. Herschell, upon a philosophic consideration of the attraction of the sun and moon. It is confirmed by the experience of many years' observation, and will suggest to the observer what kind of weather will probably follow the moon's entrance into any of her quarters. As a general rule it will be found wonderfully correct:

If the moon changes at 12 o'clock, noon, the weather immediately after will be very rainy, if in summer, and there will be snow or rain in winter.

If between 2 and 4 o'clock p. m., changeable in summer, fair and mild in winter.

Between 4 and 6 o'clock p. m., fair both in winter and summer.

Between 6 and 10 o'clock p. m., in summer, fair, if the wind is north-east; rainy, if south or southwest. In winter, fair and frosty, if the wind is north and northwest; rainy, if south or southwest.

Between 10 and 12 o'clock p. m., rainy in summer, and fair and frosty in winter.

Between 12 at night and 2 o'clock a. m., fair in summer and frosty in winter—unless the wind is from the south or southwest.

Between 2 and 4 o'clock a. m., cold and very showery in the summer, and snow and storm in winter.

Between 4 and 6 o'clock a. m., rainy, both in winter and summer.

Between 6 and 8 o'clock a. m., wind and rain in summer and stormy in winter.

Between 8 and 10 o'clock a. m., showery in summer and cold in winter.

Between 10 and 12 o'clock a. m., showery in summer and cold and stormy in winter.

An Additional Find.

Workmen are still engaged in cleaning out the hot spring on Captain Boyes' place. This spring was used for bathing purposes at one time, but was abandoned many years ago, and in the interim it has filled up with debris and became quite shallow. Last week the Captain sent men to work to clean out the bathing place, which is about eight or ten feet square, and quite a number of articles were unearthed, among others a long tress of golden hair. This week an additional find was made consisting of a pair of gold earrings, a lady's sapphire ring mounted in gold and two diamond heads. Excavations still continue and there is no telling what may turn up next.

Robbed His Room Mate.

William Miller, for some months cook at the Jones Hotel, took his departure during Wednesday night last for parts unknown. Before leaving he abstracted $45 from the pants pockets of his sleeping room mate, Martin Fuoter. Miller is a German, about 35 years old, light complexion, blue eyes, heavy mustache, height about 5 feet 7 inches, weighs about 165 pounds, is slightly bald on the crown of his head and speaks good English. Telegrams have been sent to officers of adjacent towns describing him, and he will no doubt be apprehended.

[The Boas Mushroom.

A number of our exchanges have been parading before their readers lately the size and weight of a number of mushrooms found in their respective localities, and of which will have give way to the big one picked on Terrace Hill, the residence of Dr. Lawrence, one day this week. This mammoth mushroom measured thirty-one and a half inches in circumference and weighed one pound and three-quarters.

Living Monuments.

On the tomb of Sir Christopher Wren, architect of St. Paul's Cathedral, London, is the inscription in Latin: "If you ask for his monument look around you." The thousands and hundreds of thousands of people whom we see to-day free from rheumatism and kindred diseases are living monuments to the power of St. Jacobs' Oil—The Conqueror of Pain.

TRIAL OF HOUSER.

A Jury of His Peers Decide that He is Not Guilty.

Ex-Supervisor Houser was assigned before the Superior Court, Santa Rosa, last Friday, charged with embezzling $241.50 belonging to the county. This is the second time the defendant has been on trial for the same offense, the jury having disagreed on the occasion of his first trial, eight being in favor of conviction and four for acquittal. The greater part of Friday was consumed in drawing a jury, and late in the afternoon the following were sworn in as jurors: James M. Palmer, Joseph A. Carrie, W. F. Bowman, John Strong, A. Shriver, Joseph Seawell, C. F. French, Russell Ferguson, Joseph Alexander, John Favour, Jacob Harris, John H. Forsyth.

The case was then opened for the prosecution by District Attorney Allen, who introduced witnesses to prove that the sum of $241.50 was entrusted to defendant, as Supervisor, to pay J. W. Bagley, Road Overseer of Redwood Township, and that he appropriated the money to his own use. The witnesses for the prosecution were Mat Aiken, Geo. F. Allen, W. C. Morgan, Dr. Stewart, J. W. Bagley and J. F. Mulgrew. The prosecution sought to establish that in the month of October of last year, J. W. Bagley gave his monthly report to Supervisor Houser for presentation to the Board of Supervisors, and if allowed, to be collected by the defendant. This was done but Houser failed to deliver the money to Bagley, but advised him to include this in his next report, which Bagley did. As is the custom, Houser ostensibly examined this second report, and so stated to the Board of Supervisors in session, moving that it be accepted and paid, which was done. Then County Clerk detected the discrepancy and reported the matter to the Chairman of the Board of Supervisors. An investigation followed, though it was conducted privately and not generally known. Houser, in his excuse to Bagley for not paying the October bill of $241.50, claimed that he had paid the money to Dr. Stewart for his professional services. Dr. Stewart was put on the stand and contradicted the statement. County Clerk Mulgrew testified that the December report, which includes this $241.50, did not come until last seen by him, in the hands of the defendant, and that it was not on file in his office. The evidence of Messrs. Aiken and Rue were to establish the dates when certain warrants were drawn and paid. Geo. W. Morgan testified that Houser never accounted for $99 allowed by the Board and paid to defendant. The prosecution then rested.

The defense opened with an able address by the counsel, who said he intended to prove that Mr. Houser had borrowed the amount alleged to have been embezzled. Mrs. Houser, wife of defendant, was put upon the witness stand and testified in effect that when she lived at Seaview last December, she opened a letter from Mr. Bagley to Mr. Houser which read: "Send me the money that I gave you or loaned you as I need it." She sent this to Mr. Houser who was then in the city. On cross-examination she did not believe that it could have been, "that you have," instead of "that I gave" or "loaned."

The defendant testified that he was a Canadian by birth; lived in this country about thirteen years; had been a member of the Board of Supervisors for nearly two terms; the bill of Bagley's in October, 1884, was given to him without the usual vouchers, he examined it and it was passed by the Board and paid to him at the Savings Bank, October 7, 1884. Treasurer Aiken being away at the time. He also testified that the Board adjourned on the 10th and he went to Guerneville on the 11th; went to the house of Bagley and offered to pay him the $241.50 which he had drawn; that he incidentally stated that he needed the money, and Bagley loaned it to him. That since that time Bagley has frequently dunned him for the money. Finally, Bagley agreed to take a note if he could get McDonald to sign it. In explanation as to how the October bill was allowed twice, the defendant said, "that as the October bill for $241.50 had no vouchers accompanying it, it got embodied in the December bill for $614.50 without his knowledge."

On being cross-examined, he says he examined this last report carefully, but did not detect the October bill being in it. The defense proved that Bagley was careless about making out his reports; that Houser usually went over with him and fixed them in proper shape for presentation to the Board. He stated that the December report, which was last seen on the Chairman's desk at the January meeting, was taken by him, after erasing his own interlineations at the suggestion of Supervisor Allen, and referred back to Bagley for correction. The witness stated that one of his bondsmen was the first to call his attention to the fact that the October bill of $241.50 had been incorporated in the January account. He suggested to the Board to have Bagley sent for, and an expert examine the account; that on the motion of Supervisor Allen an expert was employed to investigate the matter. He then went home and entered upon a political canvass.

In rebuttal about half a dozen were called to prove that the reputation of the defendant was bad. Clerk Mulgrew was recalled in rebuttal and testified that he remembered when it was moved in the Board of Supervisors that Bagley's October bill had been twice paid, defendant told Mulgrew that he would swear that this bill had not been twice paid. The defense then introduced a number of witnesses who testified to the defendant's reputation for truth and honesty.

The case was then summed up by counsel for both sides, and at 5 o'clock on Tuesday, after a trial lasting four days, the case was given to the jury, who, after being out four hours, returned a verdict of not guilty, and the defendant was thereupon discharged.

SANTA ROSA NEWS.

[Daily Democrat.] The late storm did considerable damage to the fences in this locality.

Several farmers along the Laguna are compelled to use boats to husk their corn. In many places the water is above the tops of the stalks.

B. A. Thompson, Esq., the new Appraiser, took the oath of office Thursday, and entered upon the discharge of his duties as a public servant.

Mr. Wiley, the roadmaster, who has a farm near Sebastopol, brought an ear of corn to town yesterday that had 70 well-formed grains on it. Quite an increase—700 to 800.

The S. F. and N. P. R. R. Company last spring bought about 500 tons of steel rails for about $15 per ton, and stored it along their road between San Rafael and Petaluma. About a week ago they sold the rails and shipped them back to the city. The price received was $32 per ton.

Larson, who killed Charles Whittier near Mark West Springs, last December, was sentenced to San Quentin. Judge Barham, his counsel, appealed the case on motion for a new trial, and argued it before the Supreme Court over three months ago. The whole matter hung on a technicality, which was thought to be a strong point in favor of a new trial. The Supreme Court has just decided it, refusing to grant the motion; and the murderer will be compelled to serve out his term in prison.

George Guerne, who came across the middle bridge of the Laguna, Wednesday afternoon, states that while crossing, the water came up to the buggy box while in the middle of the stream. Not being able to turn back, he was compelled to go forward, and came within one of an accident, but finally pulled through all right.

On Friday night six gossamers were stolen from Miss Chase's Seminary, belonging to the pupils of that place. Officer Lowery received word Saturday morning that a Chinese cook had discovered three gossamers and nine umbrellas under the house at which he is working, on First Street, back of the Santa Rosa House. The gossamers proved to be three of the six that had been taken from the Seminary. The other three have not been heard of, nor have they found where the umbrellas came from, or who put them and the gossamers where they were found.

In the examination of Clinton Rickliff which took place in October, he was held to appear before the Superior Court on a charge of petty larceny. He was released on a $1000-bond, given by his father and J. M. Roney. When the case was called in the Superior Court, Rickliff was not to be found, and the case was continued until the 23d of this month. The sister of young Rickliff appeared in the Justice's Court on Friday and asked the Justice if he would accept a plea of guilty of petty larceny, and she agreed to pay a fine of $500 if that would put an end to the case. The District Attorney said that he would be compelled to prosecute the defendant if he appeared, and if he did not appear, his bondsmen would be required to pay the $1000.

WHITE RIVER, W. T., Oct. 21, '81. Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co.—Gentlemen: My wife suffered for over twenty years with rheumatism in her hips and legs. On reading your almanac she positively believed that your Sarsaparilla would cure her. She has taken four bottles and is now as well as ever she was in her life. I feel it my duty to send you my sincere thanks. C. ENGBLORN.

PETALUMA CLIPPINGS.

[Petaluma Courier.] Mrs. J. L. Shirley, an old resident, died of consumption Sunday night.

W. B. Matzenbach was found in a stable Sunday night in an insensible condition. Upon examination it was found he had been kicked about the head and shoulders by his horse. Hopes are entertained of his recovery.

Petaluma has lost another of her finest daughters. Last Wednesday a quiet wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cassidy near town. The contracting parties were their only daughter, Miss Nellie Cassidy, and Calvin B. Webster of Solano county.

The calf trade of Petaluma amounts to a considerable sum in a year. A dealer engaged in the business says that during the year to date over 7,000 calves have been slaughtered and shipped from this city to San Francisco, and the cash paid out for them would amount to about $50,000.

Old settlers say the rains of this month have been the heaviest within the last thirty years, and old farmers living on the upper part of Petaluma creek say the water was never, within their knowledge, so high as it was yesterday. Between the Ely ranch and Penn's Grove it is said the railroad track is washed away for nearly half a mile. Between here and San Rafael, and opposite or near the Orphan Asylum 1,000 feet of the track is washed away. In many of the potato fields the damage is serious. All the potatoes on low grounds are under water and most of them will rot before they can be dug. On the uplands they will not be seriously injured, but the digging will be more expensive and difficult. One farmer and potato raiser interviewed by us thinks the recent rains will destroy half the crop.

Hunters' Blinds.

Napa Reporter. Duck hunters very often find localities where the ducks fly in large numbers, but if the country is open and devoid of brush or tules, the wary birds sight the hunters from afar, and manage in their flights to keep out of shooting distance. "Blinds" are sometimes made by the hunters of tules and weeds, but these are not always to be had. We saw a couple of "blinds" the other day, which are the property of Charley Lutwies and M. Wiprut, which are very handy and said to answer every purpose. They consist of four light iron rods about five feet high, attached to which is a piece of strong muslin, one side of which is stretched to represent a bunch of green tules. When the hunter gets to the marshes below town, he selects his stand, pushes the iron rods into the soft ground and crouching on a seat behind the "scene" is safely out of sight of the ducks that may fly close enough to be in reach of his gun. These "blinds" are very easily made, and are just the thing for duck hunters on open ground.
